Video Conferencing and Integrated Boardrooms

Get in on the fastest growing green, clean and economical worldwide trend

For many years, video conferencing has been a functional tool that larger companies have used to save time and money, allowing their employees the ability to conduct national and international meetings without having to leave their home or office.

Within the last couple of years this technology has progressed to such an extent that these tools are also now within reach of small-to-medium sized businesses. Advancements in lost packet recovery and bandwidth utilisation, coupled with a steep decline in the cost of the equipment, has made it possible for all business to afford not only the costs of the equipment, but also of the bandwidth required to operate it.

As Africa's number one AV supplier, we'll provide you with a custom-designed video conference solution no matter what your boardroom requirements. Our simple design and easy-to-use systems will transform your boardroom into a multi-functional meeting facility that's state-of-the-art while remaining easy to use. We're much more than an equipment provider though - we'll also assist you with planning a quality installation so that you can enjoy the benefits without placing unnecessary load on your company.

Video conferencing a fast-growing green, clean and economical worldwide trend. So why not join the revolution?
